

Teach Less, Learn More or TLLM was launched by the Minister for Education in September 2005 at MOE's Work Plan Seminar. TLLM is about engaging learners better and preparing them for life.

MOE adopts a Top Down Support for Ground Up Initiatives approach in supporting schools on their TLLM journey.

Schools which are ready are encouraged to put their TLLM ideas into action.

Over time, there will be a mosaic of TLLM practices in our schools.

What Is the TLLM Ignite! Package?

TLLM Ignite! is a package of support for schools interested in carrying out School-based Curriculum Innovation (SCI).

SCI involves teachers in designing, implementing and studying different approaches for engaged learning. If your school has ideas for new or different approaches in engaging students better and helping them learn for life, the TLLM Ignite! Package will provide a range of support (highlighted below) including know-how, professional development for teachers and funding.

Timeframe

MOE will commit the TLLM Ignite! Package of support to TLLM Ignite! schools for one school year, i.e. from January 08 to November 08.

Number of TLLM Ignite! Schools

From 2008 to 2010, MOE will invite schools to apply for the TLLM Ignite! Package. Up to 100 schools will be selected each year.
