

AWARDEES OF THE 2020 AND 2019 SOCIAL SCIENCE AND HUMANITIES RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP CALL

About the Social Science and Humanities Research Fellowship (SSHRF)

The SSHRF is a talent development scheme established by the SSRC in 2018. It aims to support promising Singaporean social science and humanities researchers in the autonomous universities in conducting high-quality social science and humanities research in the early stages of their academic career. Awardees will receive research funds of up to $1 million over five years.

The full list of awardees of the SSHR Fellowship can be found on the SSRC website (<https://www.ssrc.edu.sg/initiatives/grant-recipients>).

Awardees from the 2020 Social Science and Humanities Fellowship Call

S/N	SSHR Fellowship Awardee	Project Title
1	Asst Prof Chia Meng Tat Jack Department of History, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, NUS	Diplomatic Dharma: Buddhist Diplomacy in Modern Asia, 1950s – Present.
2	Asst Prof Victoria Leong Vik Ee Department of Psychology, School of Social Sciences, NTU	The Digital Future of Human Learning: Social Optimisation of Digital Media for Early Learning

Awardees from the 2019 Social Science and Humanities Fellowship Call

S/N	SSHR Fellowship Awardee	Project Title
1	Asst Prof Charlene Chen Marketing Division, Nanyang Business School, NTU	The Truth about Socio-Economic Inequality in People's Everyday Lives: How It Affects the Way People Think, Feel and Behave in their Natural Environment
2	Asst Prof Setoh Pei Pei Psychology Division, School of Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University NTU	Children's Intelligence Mindsets: Promoting Gender Diversity in STEM