

MOE HERITAGE CENTRE GALLERY

Welcome Area: Visitors will commence the gallery tour at the welcome area where they may view a short video on education initiatives or make use of props to initiate conversations.

Education in the Early Years: An exhibition zone that showcases the early days of education in Singapore from the 19th to mid-20th century.

Building a Nation: Singapore became self-governing in 1959. This exhibition zone showcases the role of education in developing Singapore as a young nation.

A Learning Nation: This exhibition zone depicts how the education system, schools, and students' learning have evolved as we progress into the 21st century. Visitors may try out an interactive game to learn about the knowledge and skills needed to thrive in a globalised environment.

Our School Day Memories: This gallery features a thematic classroom zone that allows visitors to revisit memories of their school days.
