How it works

1. Schools indicate the partnerships and learning experiences they are seeking.
2. Partners sign up and indicate what they can offer.
3. ECG Match recommends suitable ECG partners to schools, and schools and partners then connect.

Who can partner

ECG Match welcomes individuals and organisations from all sectors and industries to contribute to student development and learning. Partnerships are voluntary, and ECG partners may decide on their level of involvement.

Types of learning experiences

ECG partners can support a range of learning experiences, from sharing of career stories to supporting career talks, fairs, and learning journeys. Engagements are flexible and can range from a single one-hour session to multiple touchpoints across the year.
